

Student Alpha

Student Alpha offers students in Enschede a 9-week course covering the basics of the Christian faith through video lectures and group discussions. The course explores life's big questions such as the purpose of life, the existence of God, and the meaning of existence together with other curious minded people while enjoying a shared meal.

The task at hand

Purpose	Support the promotional of the Student Alpha course by improving awareness among students.
Audience	Students that are interested in religion.
Medium	Instagram posts and printed flyers.
My contribution	I designed all content using the existing Student Alpha colour palette.
Requirements	• Spark curiosity and enthusiasm with the tagline "Is there more?" • Communicate practical details: time, date, and title • Create a welcoming feel for open, approachable discussions on life's deeper meaning

Exploration and Iteration

Version 1Honing in on eliciting mystery

Review

- ✗ Too dark: eliciting mystery in a horror type of way
- ✓ Intriguing tagline plays major role

Version 2Light mode

Review

- ✗ Possibly too abstract
- ✓ Attention grabbing

Version 3Explore instagram carousels

Instagram offer a unique opportunity to show content across the screen horizontally through carousels. This opens up the possibility not only to communicate more information, but also to tell a story and engage the user through it. I explored these possibilities by thinking out of the box and exploring the mystery behind the question "is there more?".

Version 1 - Black background text does not fit with white and red palette

Version 2 - Cleared the area around the foreground white text to give more breathing room and contrast

Review

- ✗ Possibly too abstract as it does not visually communicate the content of the evenings
- ✓ Fresh and intriguing

Review

- ✗ Possibly does not feel very personal
- ✓ Visualises the content of the evenings

Implementation

Final verdictEach version presented unique advantages and disadvantages that complemented each other effectively when combined. Consequently, one option from each category was selected by the marketing team.
