

Interactive coaching for positive behavioural change

Limited health literacy affects 1/3 of dutch population and is correlated with increased health conditions.

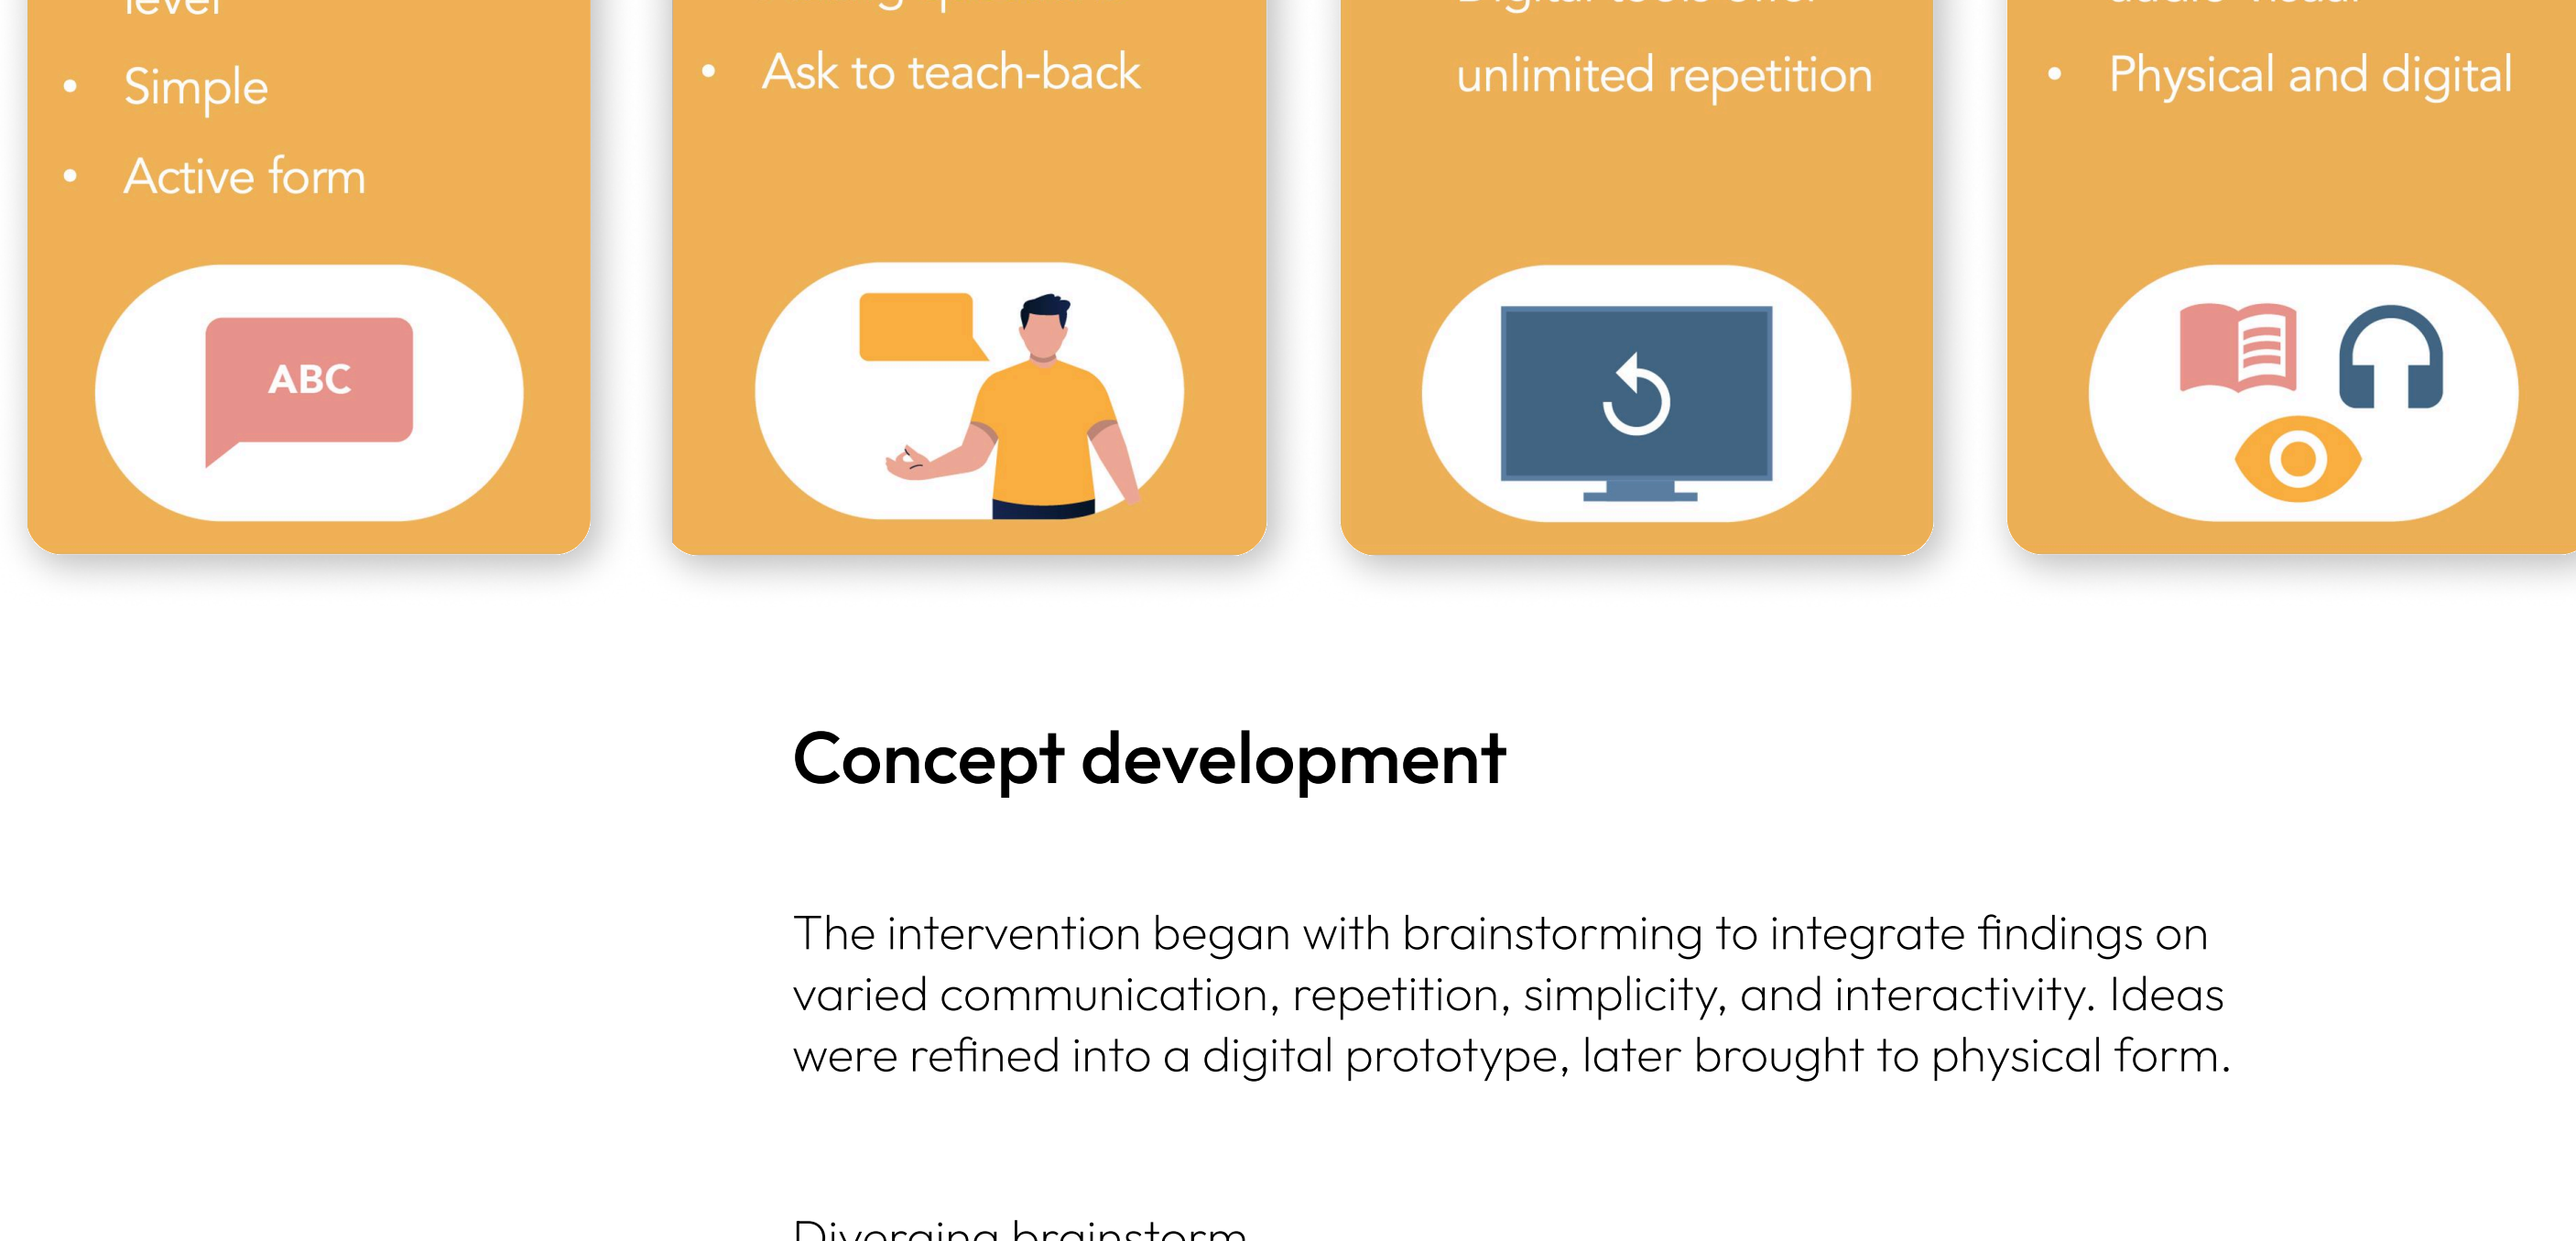

Audience	People with low health literacy and diabetes type 2
Medium	Multi-modal approach using physical, audio, and visual outputs

Contribution I researched, developed and tested a daily activity

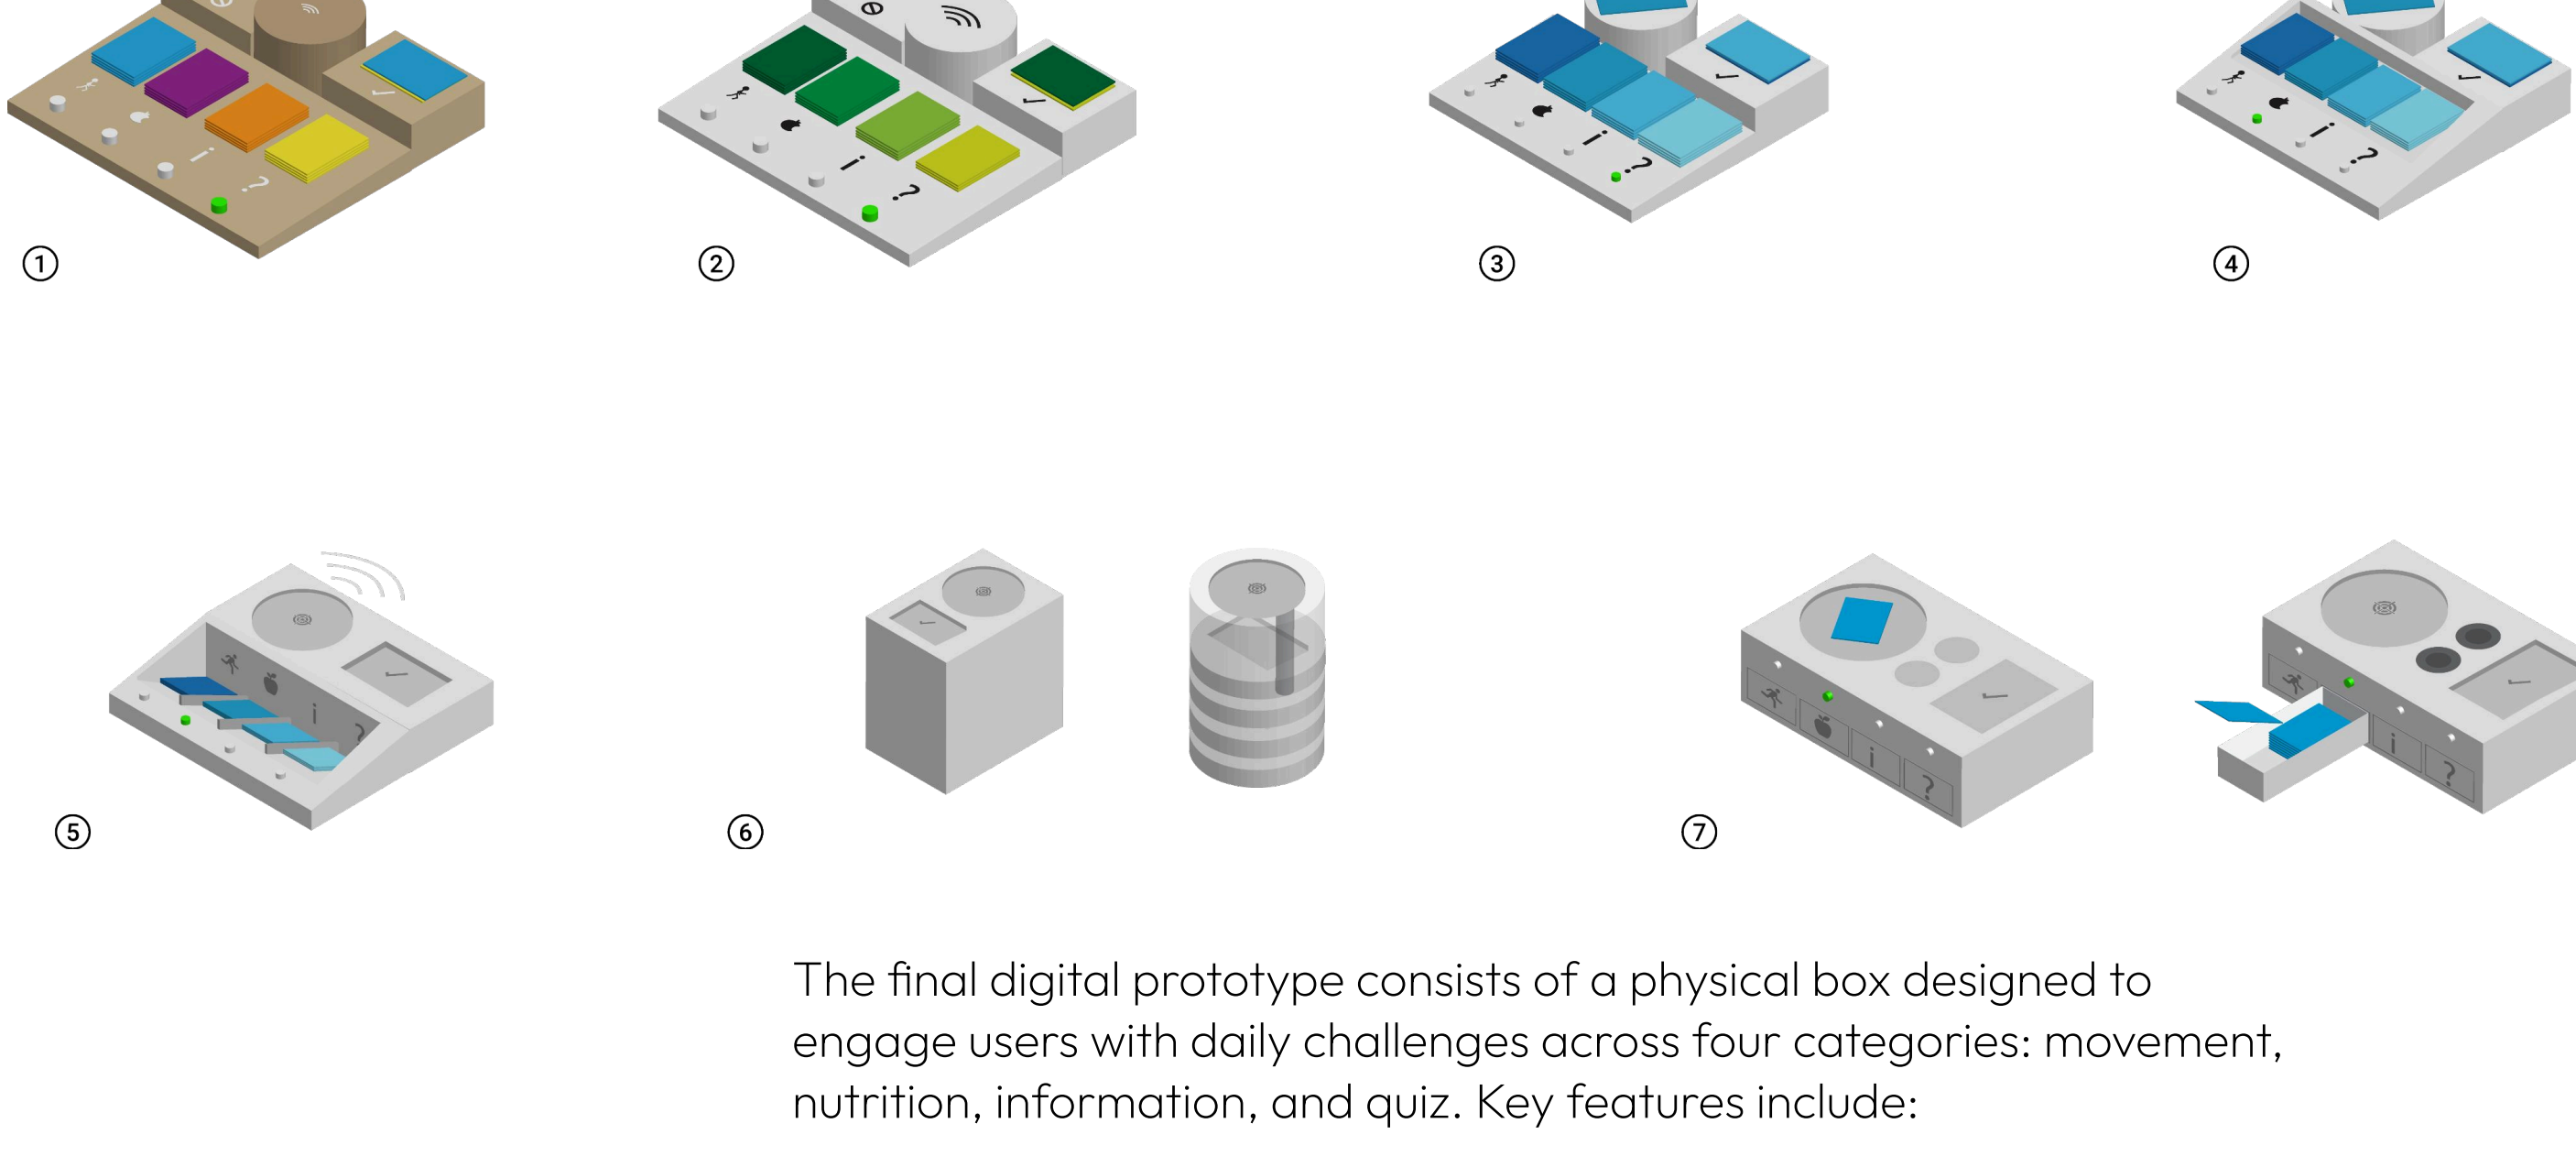

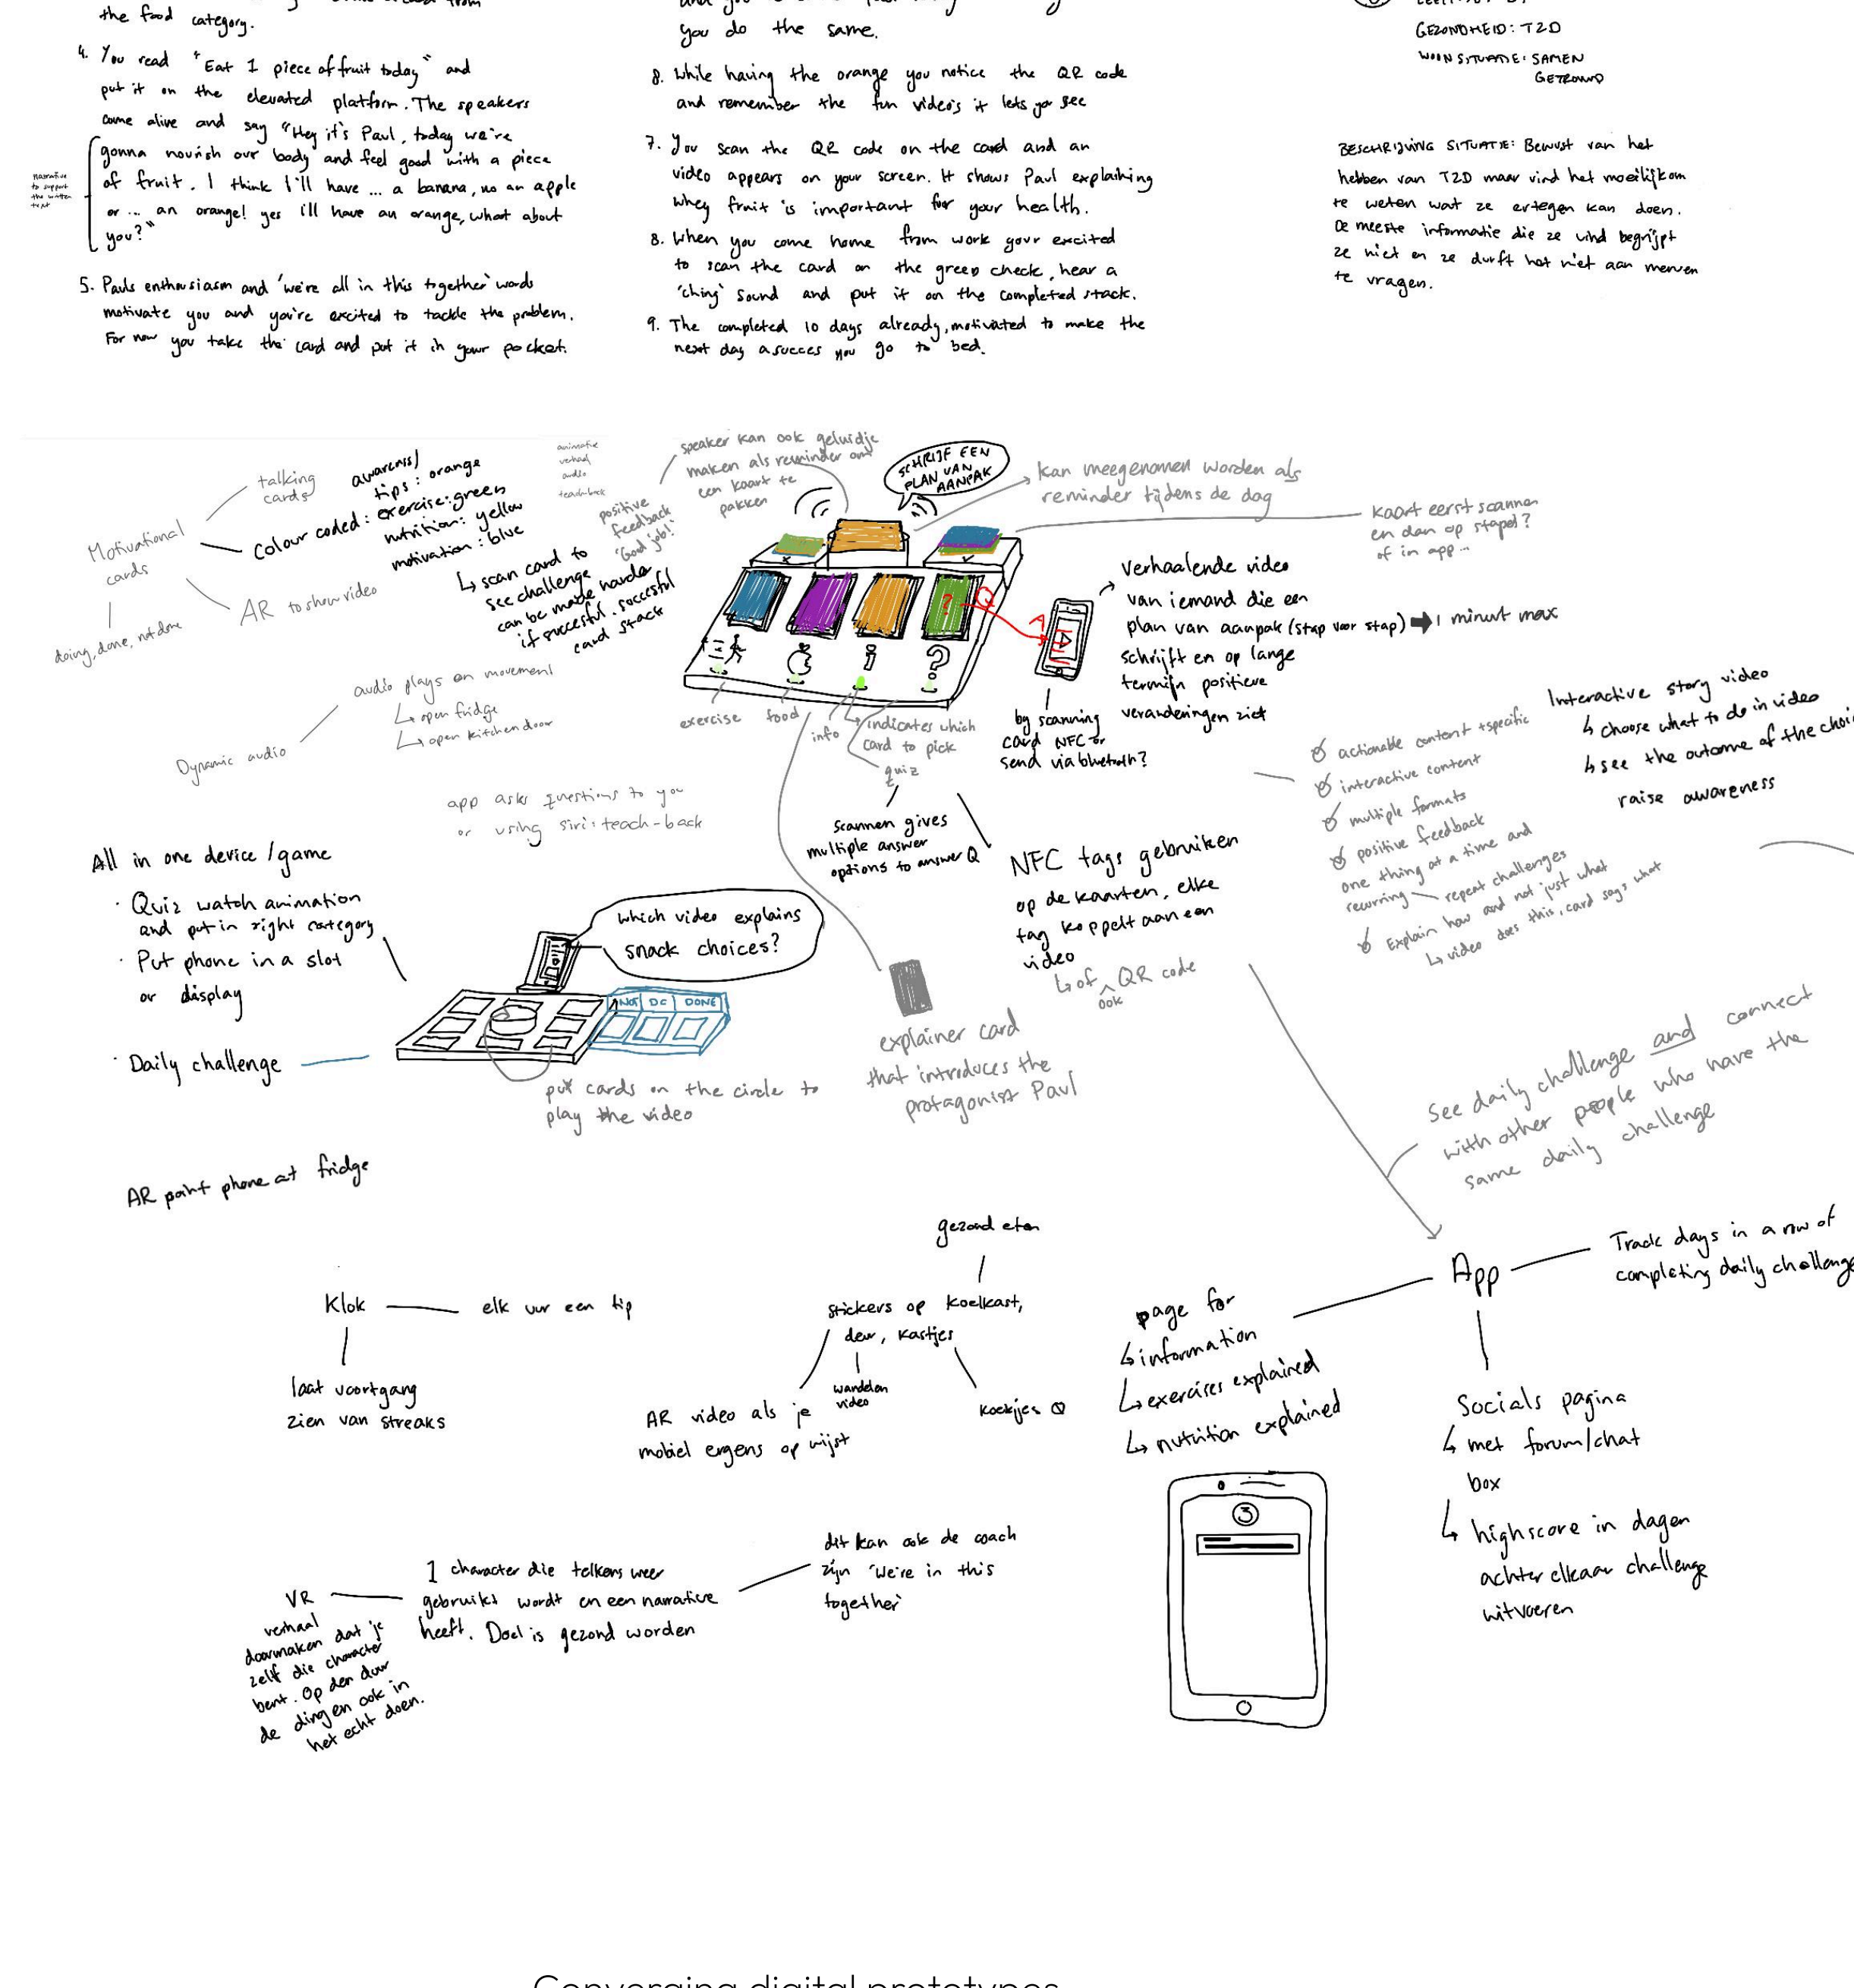

Research

Research revealed what strategies should be used to effectively communicate to people with low health literacy:

teractive

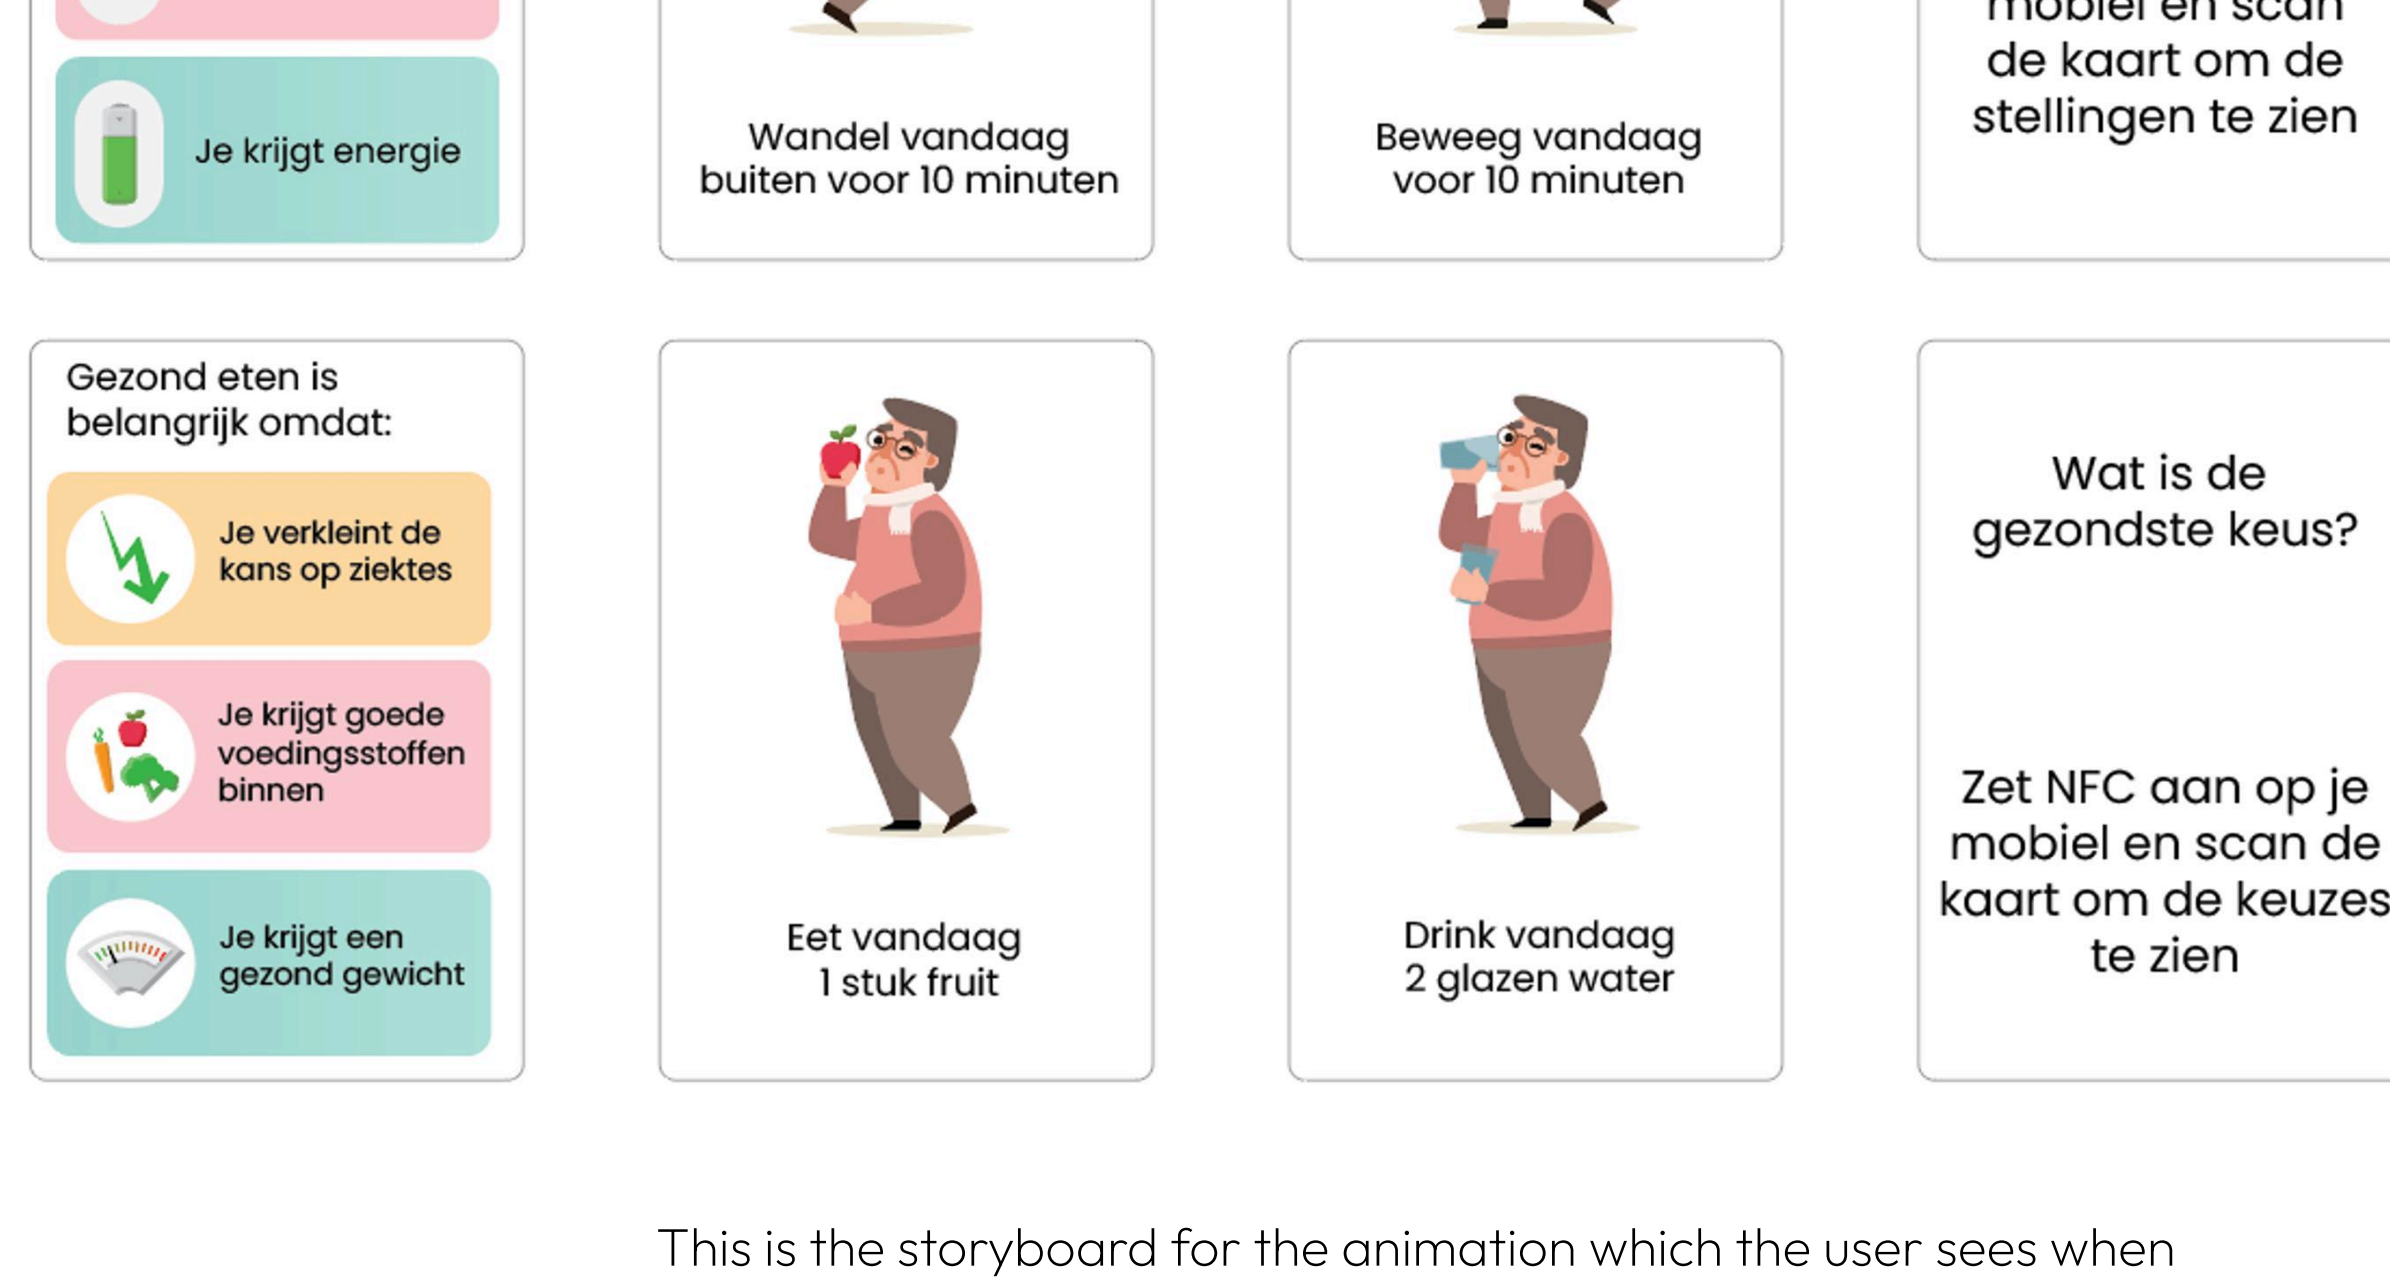

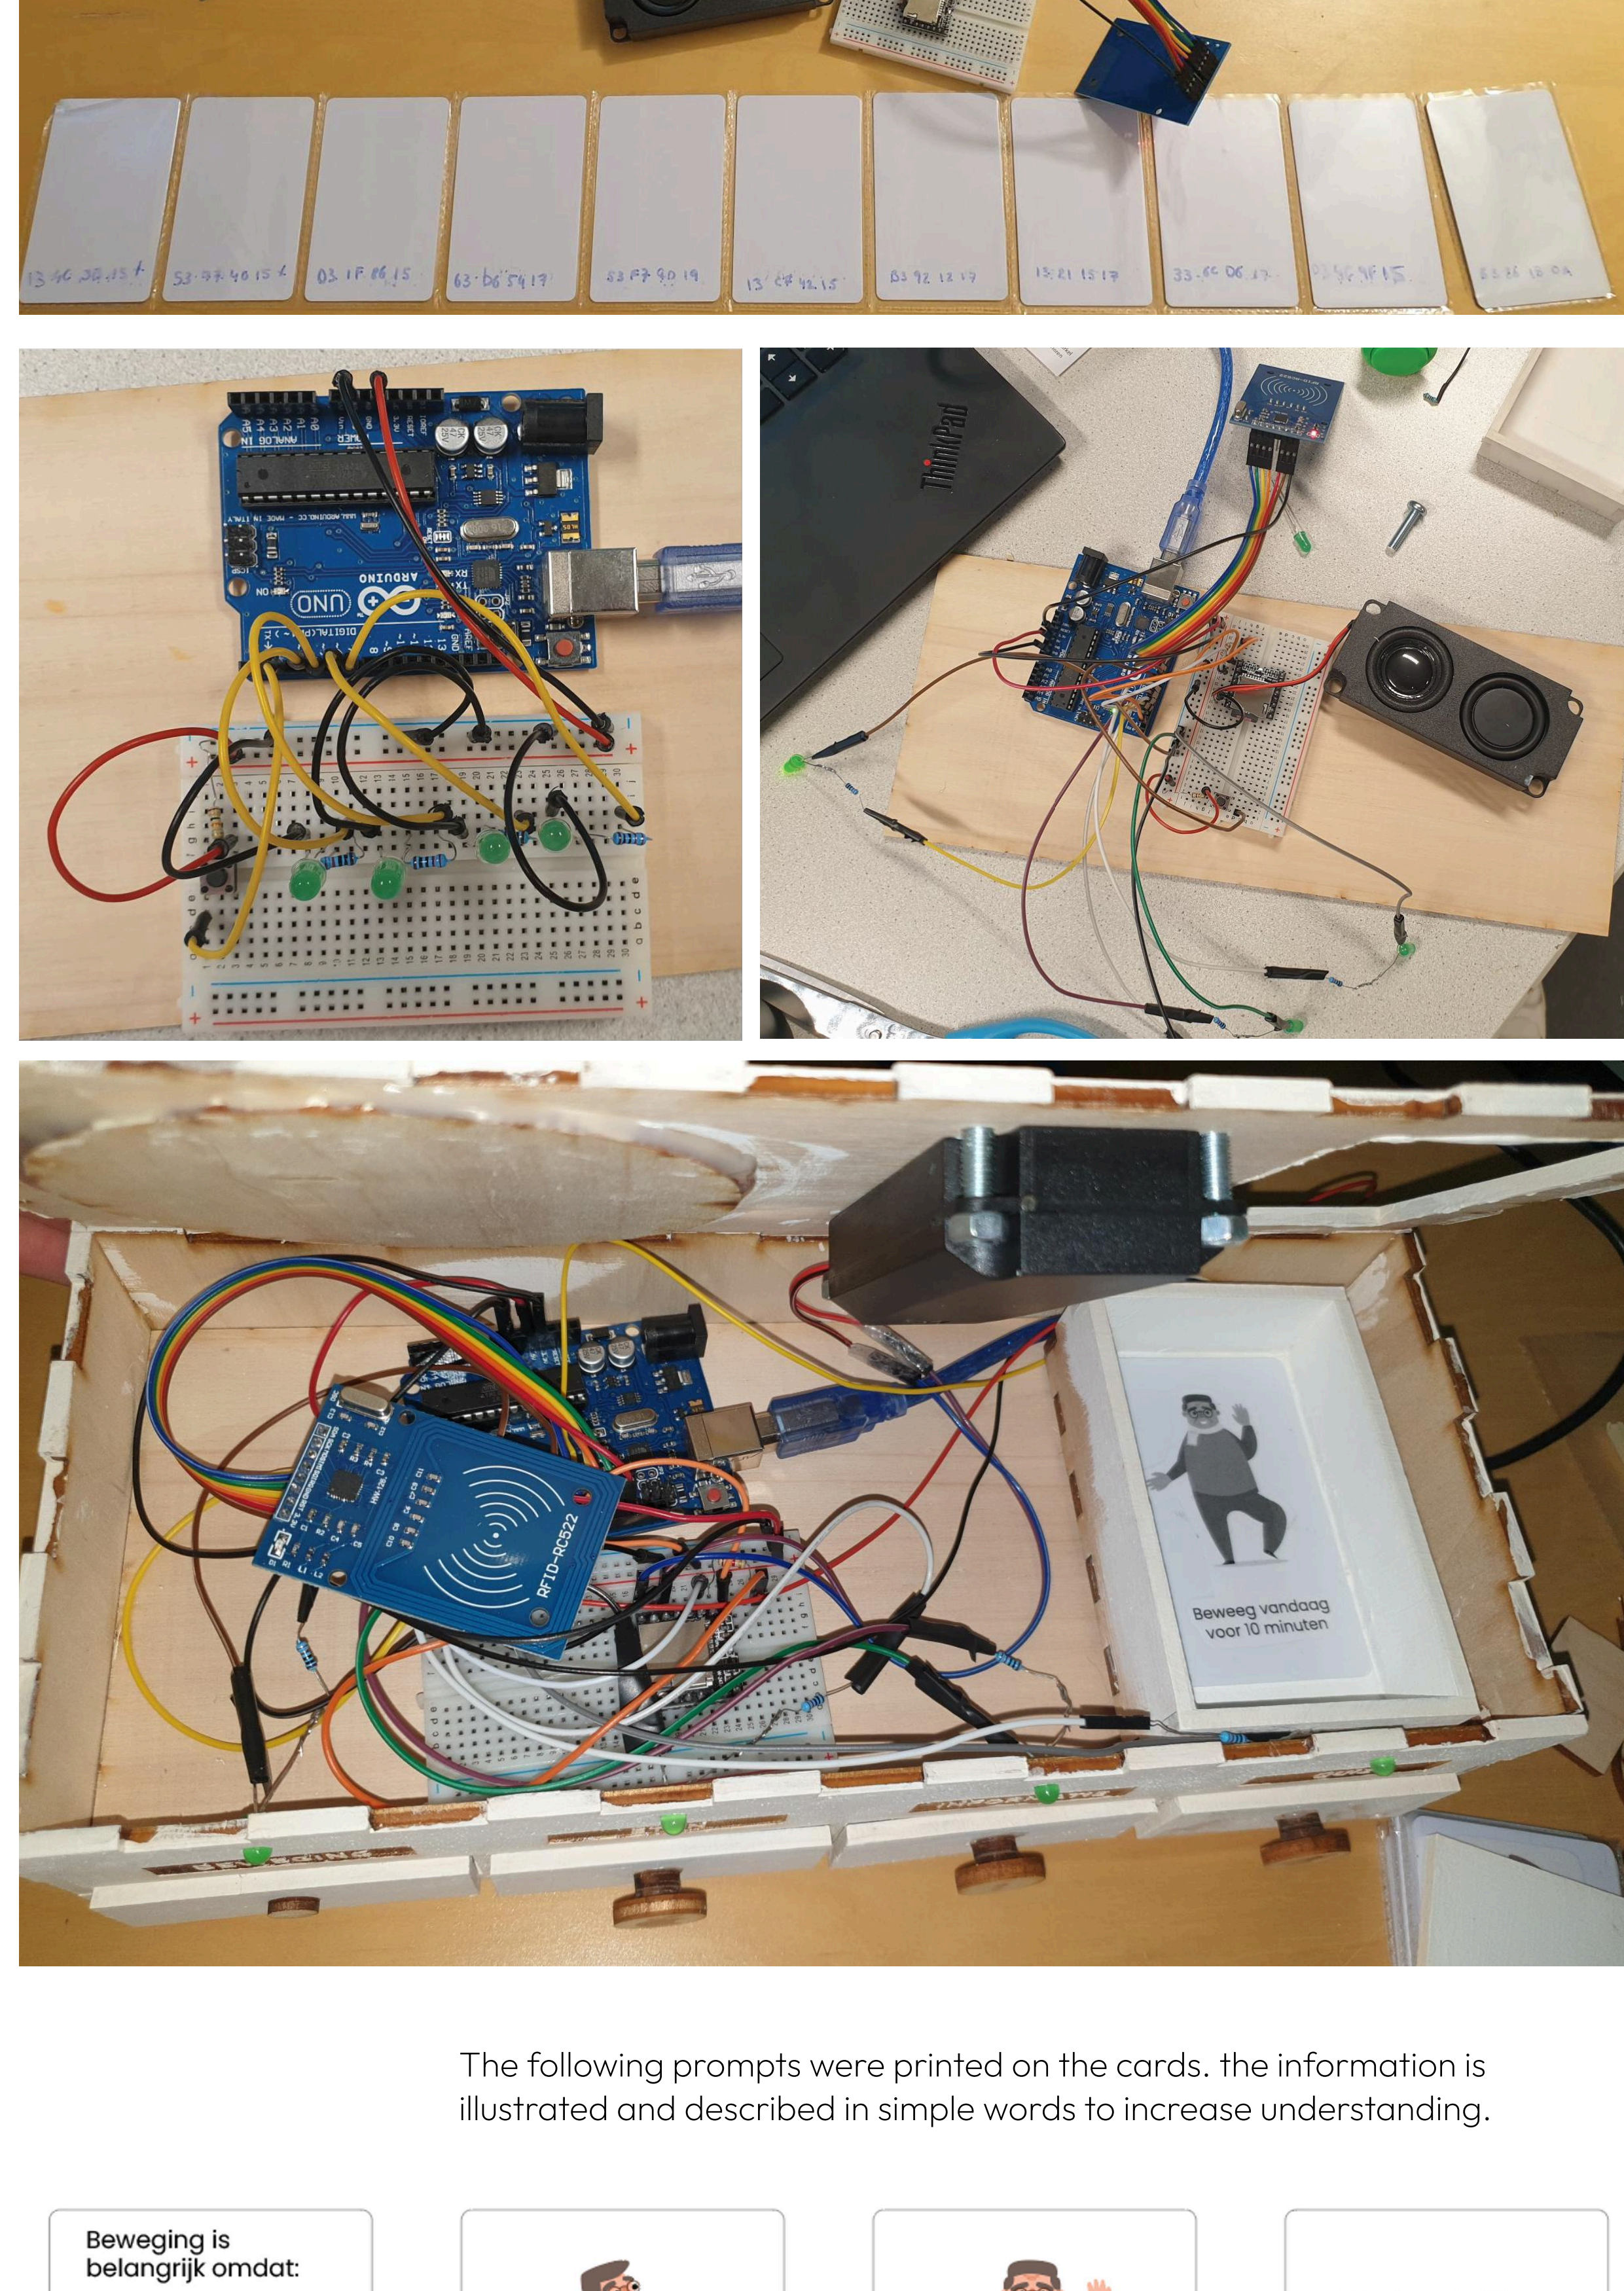

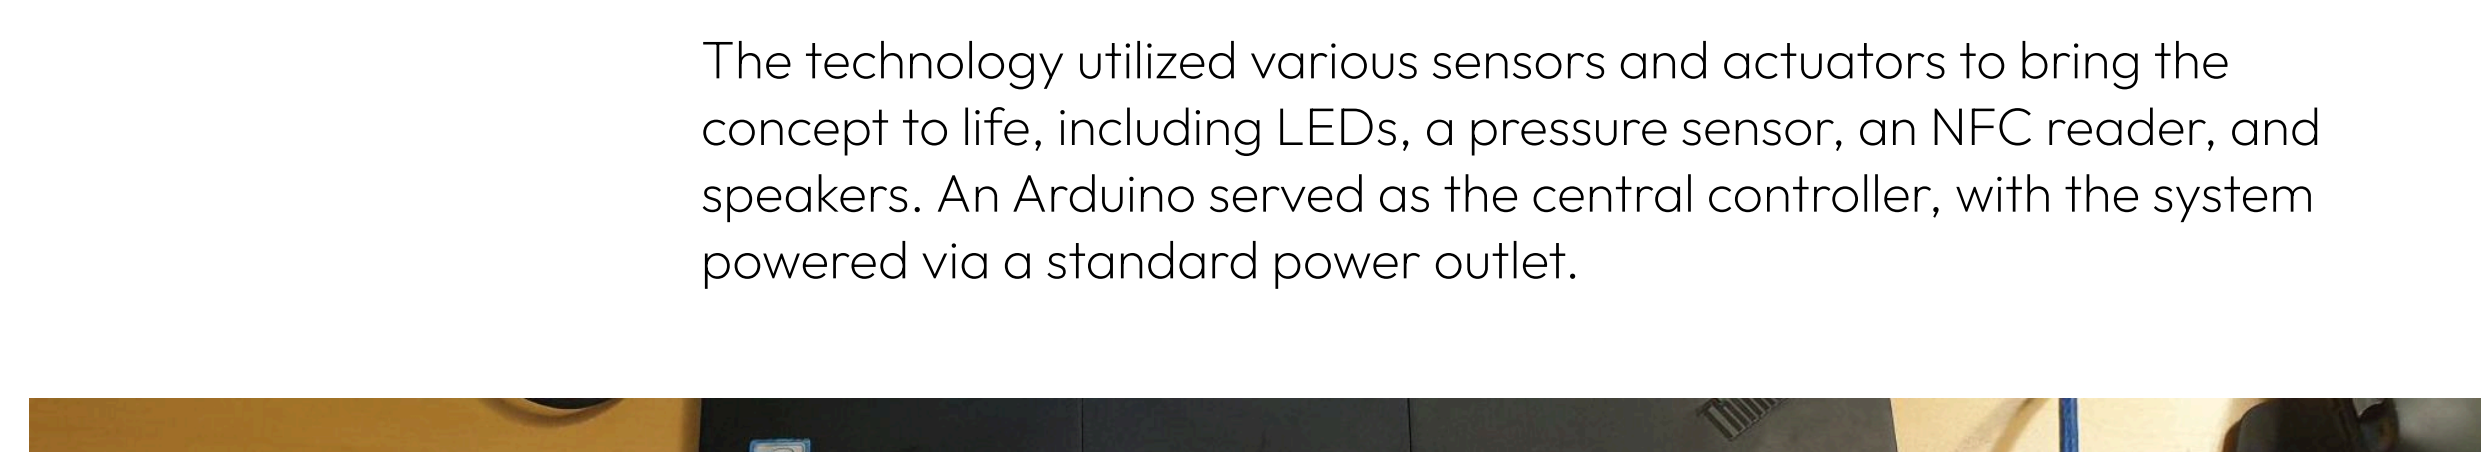

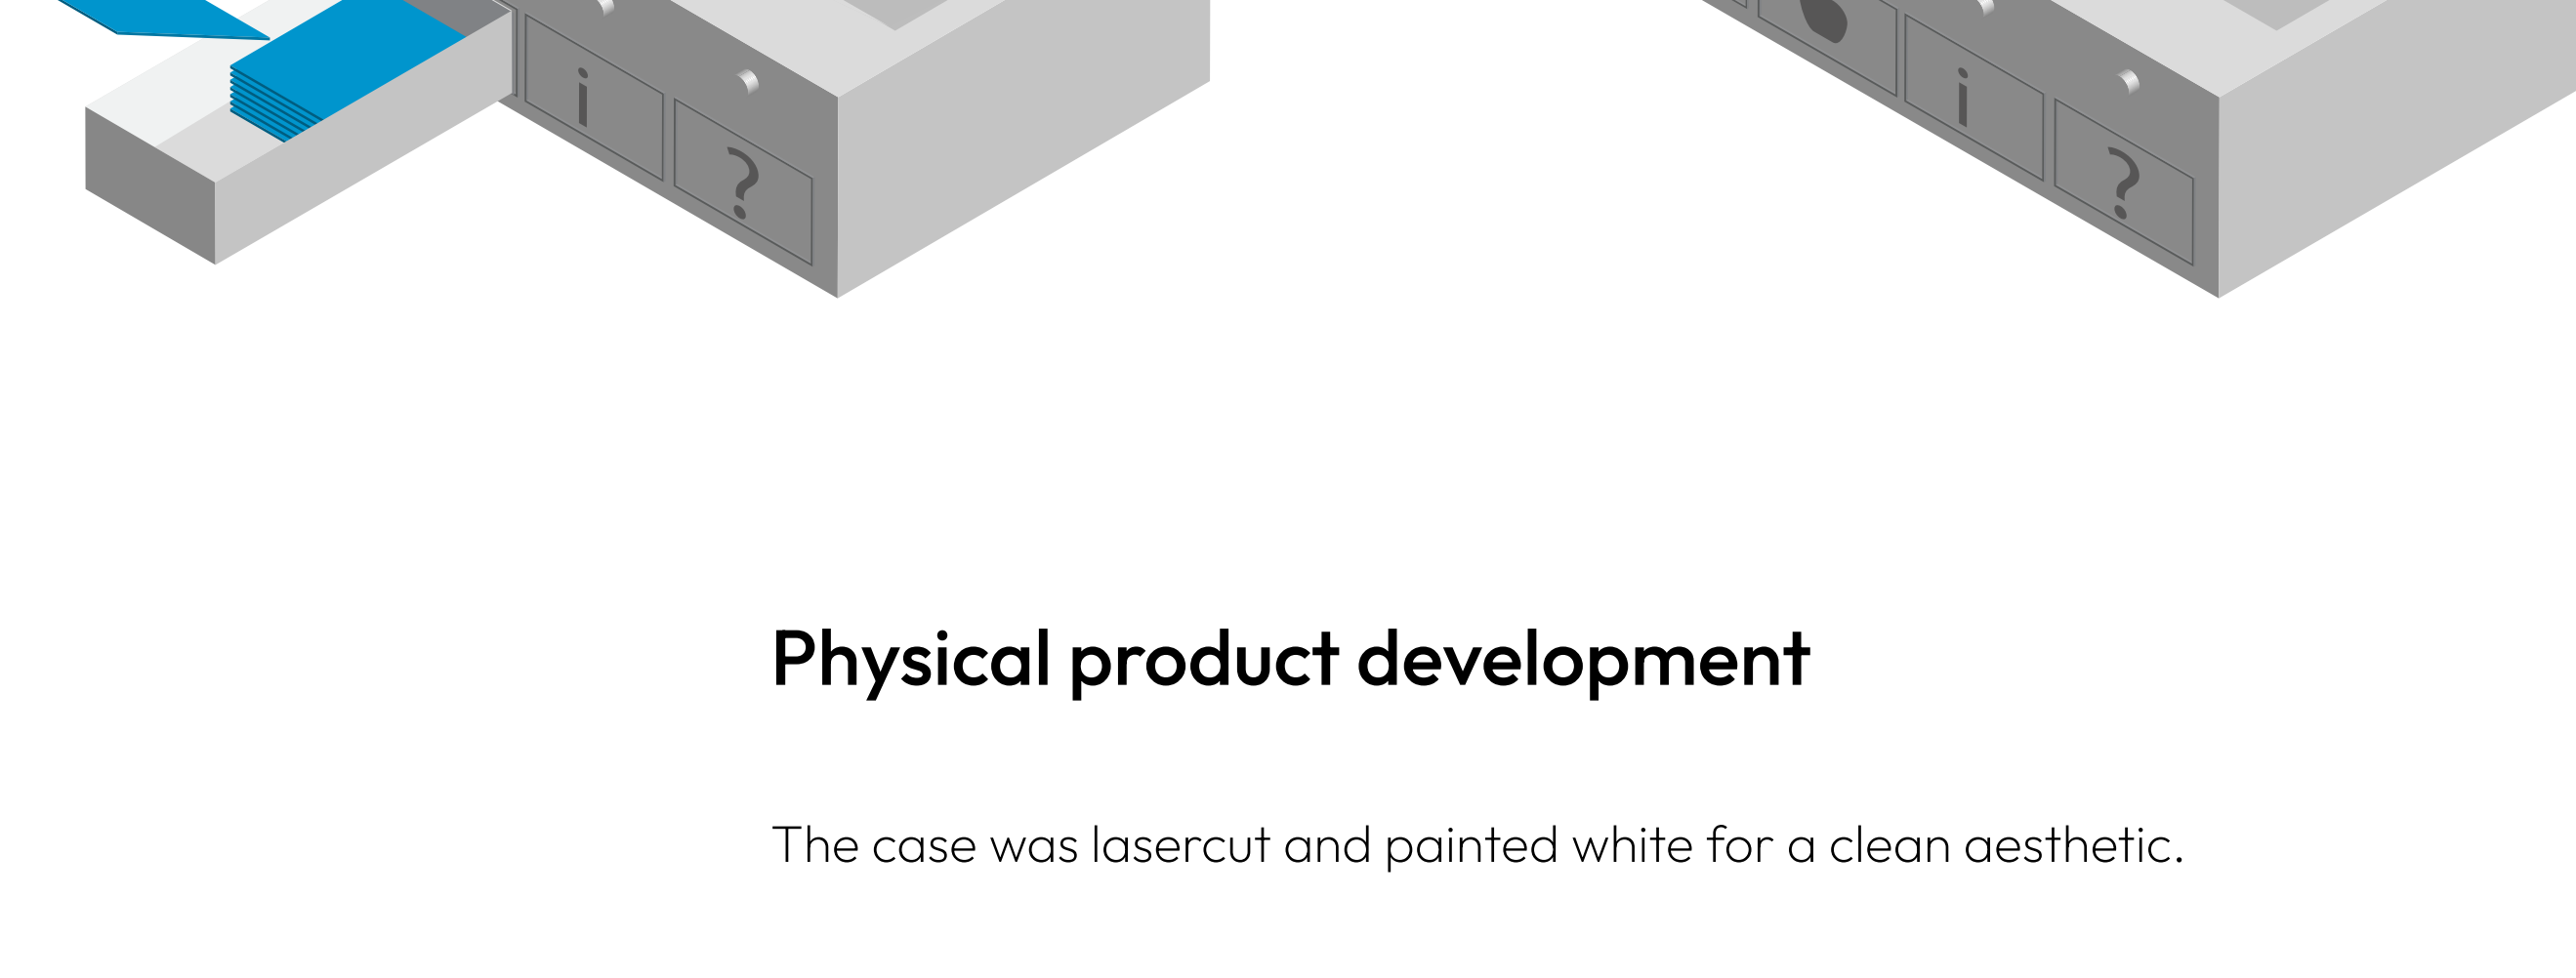

6. You look at the end and remember you read the challenge.

2. Audio playback: Placing the card on the designated area triggers a speaker to read the challenge aloud.
3. Interactive NFC animation: Scanning the card with a phone via glasses of water instead of fizzy drinks.

-

High

entrance back indicators which need to place

TEN